

Griff Depends on Johnson For Win Today---Sends Protest on Veach's Drive

JOHNSON WILL TRY TO DEFEAT TIGERS IN THIRD CONTEST

Junglers Win Sunday Battle Before 18,000 People by 4 to 3.

NINTH INNING IS FATAL

Game Was Bitterly Fought and Hard One to Lose for the Griffmen.

By LOUIS A. DOUGHER.

DETROIT, June 5.—With six straight defeats behind them, the Griffmen today will undertake to win a ball game for Walter Johnson against the Junglers. They could not turn the trick in Boston, but they have hopes of doing it here. Johnson warmed up in the ninth yesterday, and would have been used had the occasion arisen, but the Tigers raced away with the victory without facing the Welser Wizard.

The Griffa have not won since they overcame Nabors of the Mackmen, in Washington, May 27.

In seven starts since that day they have tied once and dropped every other battle. Nothing but good fortune has kept them up around first place.

The Sunday clash between the Griffa and Tigers before 18,000 fans from all parts of Michigan within striking distance of Detroit proved a victory for the Junglers, 4 to 3. George Dauss, walloping a liner to the center field fence, scoring Kavanaugh from first base.

No game was ever more bitterly fought. No game was harder to lose; small wonder that Manager Griffith ate no dinner last night and is totting a grouchy eight feet long today.

Most of the fireworks came in the ninth inning. The Griffmen came to bat with one run behind and a thunderstorm hovering over the park. Before the first half of the frame was ended it was raining right smartly. Before the Tigers finished their turn at bat the sun was shining brightly. Shanks opened the ninth with a pass. Henry's bunt proved a pop fly, holding Shanks at first. Burns came in and trapped the ball, throwing to Bush and forcing Shanks. McBride faced a single to center, putting Moeller, who was running for Henry, on third. Hamilton was dickered to let Dauss continue the pastime. Jameison came up for Gallia and tied to Heilmann, letting Moeller score. McBride, who had reached second while Moeller was going to third, advanced on the fly, and with Morgan at the plate made a daring attempt to steal home. He failed and was trapped at the plate.

With the score even, the sun popped out again between the heavy clouds, and Sam Rice undertook to stop the Tigers. Young Rice took a fly to Cobb, fumbled Kavanaugh's roller, giving him a life. Then came Dauss. With two balls and two strikes on him the twirler hammered the apple far over Milan's head, rolling to the corner of the center field fence. Kavanaugh caught around, crossed the plate and the Griffa had dropped another tough contest.

The eighth inning was a hot one, affording the fans a shower, a lengthy argument participated in by both teams, a run for each team, and a clever trick by the Tigers.

Foster opened it with a double to right center. Burns took Milan's roller, advancing Foster, and Rondau laced a single to left, scoring Foster and tying up the count. In the gathering gloom Williams drove a fly to Cobb. Bush and Young pretended it was a ground ball and Rondau fell into the trap, sliding into second base and remaining there. Cobb gathered in the fly and doubled up Rondau at first base. With two down in the last half of the eighth Bobby Veach caught on to his liking and walloped it far out into right center. The ball struck in front of the ropes and bounded over into the bleachers. This gave the Tiger a home run and precipitated a furious argument.

For fully ten minutes both teams rallied around Umpire Connolly demanding their rights. Connolly, however, ruled it a home run and the score stood, 3 to 2 in favor of the Tigers. Rain was falling, and the fans were demanding action, but the umpire did not leave the plate until the little umpire threatened to banish them from the clash.

The Tigers hopped into the lead in the first inning with two runs. McBride's first error gave them a lead. Vitti's sacrifice advancing him. Cobb's out put him on third. Veach drove a pass and then Heilmann singled sharply left. Rondau let the ball roll through him to the fence, both runners scoring, and the batsman reaching third, where he stayed until McBride tossed out Burns.

With one gone in the second Shanks tripped over Cobb's head coming over when Henry fled far out to Veach. No scoring was done until that second inning by either team after the momentous eighth, though the Griffmen were getting men on the bases right along.

Here you have the heartrending tale in a nut shell.

O'Loughlin Helps White Sox to Win

CHICAGO, June 5.—Two things in connection with the Yankee-White Sox baseball game were prominently bad. One was the playing of the Yankees, who were beaten 12 to 4. The other was a decision against the Yankees by Silk O'Loughlin.

Schalk's punt was a feeble little fly in front of the plate. Fisher dashed in for it, caught it as he was plunging forward and held the ball while he pitched the ball. Fisher had run to third, and when Fisher scrambled to his feet he threw to second for a double play.

But as O'Loughlin saw it there had been no double play. He contended that Fisher had trapped the ball, and not only was Fisher safe at third, but Schalk was safe at first. The score: New York, 000 000 000-4; Chicago, 200 213 12x-11 16-1.

Batteries—Fisher, Russell and Numa; Russell, Danforth, Faber, and Schalk.

Bob Groom in Box And Athletics Lose

ST. LOUIS, June 5.—The Browns beat the Athletics 4 to 3. Koob started his first game of the year, but only pitched to three batters. Witt tripped and Picked and Strunk drove passes, filling the bases. Then Groom went in. A pass to LaJole sent Witt home. McInnis grounded into a double play, scoring Picked. Groom held the Athletics to the ninth, when a walk and two singles scored another run. In the sixth the Browns reached Myers for three runs. Miller, Sieler, Pratt, and Marans bunched singles.

St. Louis, 001 003 00-4; Athletics, 000 000 001-3 6-1. Batteries—Koob, Groom, Wellman and Hartley; Myers and Meyer.

Marines Drop One.

Staff of the War Interbureau League, defeated the Marines yesterday by a 15-to-8 score. Lane, playing second for the losers, had a perfect day at the bat, getting three hits in as many times up and handling six chances in the field without an error.

Vigilant Club Wins.

The Vigilants scored an easy victory over the newly organized B. & O. nine by a score of 7 to 6. Vernstein, pitching for the winners, held his opponents to six hits and fanned nine batters.

COLUMBIA TENNIS

HACKENSCHMIDT HERE TO WRESTLE TURNER

Brother of Champion in Graeco-Roman Styles Here Tomorrow.

Joe Turner, the middleweight wrestler who has been successfully meeting all comers at the Lyceum Theater this season, is stepping out of his class to the extent of fifteen or twenty pounds in taking on Milo Hackenschmidt at the Lyceum tomorrow night. The visitor is in the light-heavyweight class, and no informed Manager Harry Tuberville before articles for the match were signed.

Milo Hackenschmidt is a brother to George Hackenschmidt, who is the acknowledged European champion in the Graeco-Roman style of wrestling. It is expected that this style will be objected to by Turner, as the latter is conceding so much weight that he does not think he should wrestle under any additional handicap. The American catch-as-catch-can style is preferred and enjoyed more by people of this country. It is claimed by Tuberville.

Postponed Games May Decide Title

Two postponed games which are scheduled to be played during the open dates this week will probably decide the winners of the first series of the Government League. ### Oldfield Has New Automobile Record

CHICAGO, June 5.—Harney Oldfield, who used to make hearts palpitate with his "devil-may-care" driving, held a new automobile record today for the fastest two miles ever driven in America. Oldfield broke the American record for two miles yesterday three times in four unsuccessful attempts to smash the world's record. Harney's second drive against time was his fastest, averaging 113 miles an hour. The best previous American record was 111 miles made by Oldfield here a year ago.

Infield Outs.

Sammy Gittings is not good enough for Newark and has been sent back to Washington. Sammy evidently believes in seeing America first.

According to Clark Griffith, there is no closed season for Tigers. Ninth inning rallies in Detroit are becoming as frequent as Zeppelins over Paris.

Some one in Detroit must have been feeding those Tigers raw meat again! To the bloke who inquired why we do not publish the "Big League Whiffers of a day" we would remind him of the nine-column papers are not being worn this year.

Umpires are said to have robbed Washington and New York of victories yesterday. Looks like Great Britain employed some umpires since the first reports of that North Sea engagement.

The only chance Tommy Lowe has to win Thursday night is that Freddy will Welch on the job.

Red Sox Pounded by The League Leaders

CLEVELAND, June 5.—The Indians hit Mays and Foster hard and made it two straight from the Red Sox. The score was 9 to 3. Mays was knocked out in the second. Gandil was knocked out by one of Foster's beam balls in the eighth.

Batteries—Bagby, Horton and O'Neill; Mays, Foster and Thomas.

GRIFFMEN PROTEST

BOBBY VEACH'S HIT

Manager, Backed by Affidavits, Files Letters With Johnson on Connolly's Decision.

By LOUIS A. DOUGHER.

DETROIT, Mich., June 5.—Manager Clark Griffith has filed a protest with President Ban Johnson of the American League, alleging that Umpire Tommy Connolly erred in allowing Bobby Veach, the Tigers' left fielder, a home run in the eighth inning of yesterday's game, which was finally won by Detroit, 4 to 3.

Just what action President Johnson will take is, of course, unknown. However, in all the history of the American League no protest has ever been considered by Ban Johnson. The league boss works on the theory that his umpires, even O'Loughlin, are infallible and because of this understanding he cannot consider charges that they have made any mistakes.

Ground rules were in force when Veach drove a liner to right center in the eighth inning. Owing to the shower, the fans had stood up as they saw the ball coming they parted to let it go through. Where the ball landed and what happened to it is the cause of the protest. Howard Shanks, Clyde Milan, Ray Morgan, and Sam Rice swore to affidavits here last night. Shanks, Milan, and Morgan swore that the ball fell just beneath the ropes upon illegal territory, bounding into the air. They alleged that the fans, many of them young boys, tried to catch it as it came off the ground. Sam Rice, who followed the course of the ball, swore that he saw the ball bound off a fan's outstretched hand and on up into the bleachers, over the wall, some twelve feet high.

After a long argument with Umpire Connolly in the eighth, Manager Griffith served notice upon him that the Washington club played the remainder of the game under protest and that he would file a complaint with President Johnson. This was done last night.

Umpire Connolly ruled that the ball struck inside of the ropes and then bounded over the heads of the fans into the bleachers, never landing in the illegal space between the ropes and the wall of the bleachers. This space was some twenty-five feet wide. Shanks claims that but for the rope he might have caught the ball or at least have knocked it down. He was within a few feet of it and swore that it fell beneath the rope into the space left vacant by the retreating fans. As it bounced up the fans tried to catch it. He is not sure whether it was touched or not. Milan and Morgan, who had gone out into the outfield for the relay throw, agree with Shanks' statement.

Allowing Veach a home run put Detroit ahead. In the ninth the Griffmen again tied the score only to have Dauss come through with his drive in the last half scoring Kavanaugh with the winning run.
